Re: Annual Report - Commission on Judicial Performance

The Commission on Judicial Performance is charged with maintaining the high standards for which our judiciary is noted. No one is in a better position than members of the bar to assist us in these endeavors.

The commission publishes its Annual Report each April detailing the commission's activities and statistics from the previous year. In order to reduce printing and mailing costs and to encourage the use of the commission's website, the full Annual Report will be available on the website at <http://www.cjp.ca.gov> after April 1, 2013. However, if you would like a copy of the Annual Report mailed to you, please contact the commission office.

Our staff is available to meet with committees, governing boards and the general membership to explain the importance of the cooperation of the members of the bar.

Very truly yours,
