

The ORANGE COUNTY BAR ASSOCIATION Invites OCBA Members to Volunteer at

GAIT

Guided Animal Intervention Therapy
An OCBA Community Outreach Committee Activity

Event Co-Chairs Meg Smith, Rachel Goldstein, Carley Millian and Nesa Targhibi

Volunteers are needed to help enhance GAIT's Equine Sensory Trail by assisting with creating additional sensory stations for sound and music, improving the sensory garden and cleaning up the trail. Possible tasks include painting, decorating, hammering, digging and sweeping.

The Sensory Trail provides a multi-sensory environment that supports children (ages 4-12) in meeting their mental health needs, including engaging with the environment.

Sunday, January 27, 2019 • 9:00 a.m. to 12:00 p.m.

Seneca Family of Agencies, Equine Sensory Trail
233 S. Quintana, Anaheim Hills, CA 92807

SPACE IS LIMITED, PLEASE SIGN UP EARLY!

Seneca Family of Agencies helps children and families through the most difficult times of their lives. In many cases, they are the last hope for young people who have come to see failure and discouragement as a way of life. At Seneca, they offer each child a simple but profound promise: You will be supported every step of the way, no matter what challenges you face.

GAIT does not expect volunteers to have carpentry skills. Volunteers must be at least 16 years old, must sign a Waiver before volunteering and must be able to bend, squat and lift at least 10 lbs.

Register online at www.ocbar.org or return form below. Registration Deadline: Thurs., January 24, 2019.
