

Stability Technology is looking for a Workers Compensation Litigation Associate Attorney for its client in Costa Mesa, CA

- Candidates are expected to possess at least 1-2 years of Workers Compensation Litigation experience.
- Will be responsible for client intake of new cases, preparation of settlement demand letters, preparation of court complaints and arbitration demands, drafting and responding to written discovery, taking and defending depositions is a plus but not mandatory for hiring, drafting and responding to legal motions, appearing at court hearings, drafting mediation briefs and attending mediations, engaging in settlement negotiations, and engaging in Trial and all trial-related work.
- At this time, the position is contemplated to be in-person with some hybrid days.
- This position is 6 months to perm.

The salary for this position is between $90,000-$100,000 upon conversion depending on experience level PLUS up to 20% in commissions on attorneys' fees earned from cases (as the firm is rapidly growing, current attorneys in 2024 have more than doubled their annual salary in commissions). If you are willing to bank on yourself, you will earn a significant amount more. Our client also offers a 401k plan with employer matching, participation in our company health insurance plan, monthly cell phone reimbursement, paid parking, and company paid participation in networking groups. SLG does not have a billable hour requirement.

Our client's law firm focuses on Personal Injury, Workers Compensation, and Employment Litigation law firm located in Costa Mesa, Orange County, California. We have been rapidly growing over the last few years and continue to grow in size and cases on a regular basis. We are looking for a young attorney that understands Workers Compensation law that is willing to hustle and bank on themselves to generate exponential income.

If you are interested in applying for the role please send your resume to jpatricia@stabilitytp.com.